Question 1

Question Type: MultipleChoice

Green Elk & Company is the world's leading manufacturer of agricultural and forestry machinery. The former company slogan "Elk always runs" has recently been changed to "Elk feeds the world". One of Green Elk's strategic goals is to increase its revenue in the emerging markets of China, India, and other parts of Asia by 80 % within three years. This requires a new business model that caters to significantly smaller farms with limited budgets. You are the Chief Enterprise Architect and the CIO asks you to assess the new business model for smaller farms with smaller budgets. Given the principle and statement, which of the following combinations of rationale and implication do you consider well-defined?

Principle	Use packaged solutions, in a standard way
Statement	Buy packaged solutions that support our business requirements and use them in a standard way.
Rationale	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Process and solution will be simplified by using packaged software in a standard way Adherence to standard will allow better maintenance and lower the total cost of ownership <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Increase the capacity to adopt technology innovation
Implication	Reuse vendor and industry best practices, reference architectures and pre-derived content <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Apply guidelines, patterns, standards, and naming conventions Use maximum possible solution standards and avoid custom developments wherever possible
